Wilmer Valderrama, an American actor, comes in number 95. I first noticed this Venezuelan/ Colombian hottie in a hysterical TV show called That '70's Show. He was my second favorite person on the show with the funny accent and cute attitude. He also came produced and hosted his own comedy show called Yo Momma. I watched this show all the time. It was basically getting two different people from opposite neighborhoods to say "Yo Momma" jokes back and forth and whom ever was the most original and of course funny won! It was hilarious and it had a hot host!

So I already mentioned the two reason why he made the list at number 95. One, he is funny. I mean all you have to do is watch anything he has been in and you will love him too! If you have no personality then you are not hot. there is no way anyone will like you if you don't smile or laugh once in a while. So it is a great thing that Wilmer Valderrama has such an eccentric personality.

And he is also hot! I think he is the perfect height. I wouldn't mind if he was taller but he is not too tall. I mean I don't want to be looking up his nostrils, so at least he is taller than me. Plus he fills up a T-shirt really nice. I mean really nice. The man has muscles. I like the muscles. Plus he almost has the perfect smile. No, I take that back. He has a perfect shining white smile. And there is nothing less sexy about a guy with bad breath or crooked teeth.

Ladies, do I really need to explain why this man is hot? I mean all you have to do is look at him and of course watch something that he is in, since personality is a big factor.

So there you have it, Wilmer Valderrama is number 95. But what really matters is who is number 94? Could it be someone from a movie you just watched or a hot musician that sings your favorite song? That's for me to know and for you to find out.
