I never thought I would like a song or even ever listen to a song Ozzy Osbourne. I could not believe "Dreamer" was sang by him. He was more of a rock metal artist and this song is a adorable ballad. It is weird to hear this man, who used to bite heads off of bats, sing about wanting serenity.

Now when I said I never thought I would ever listen to him, doesn't mean I do not think Ozzy Osbourne is one of the best singers that ever lived. I do think he is one of the best that ever lived, but when I think about his normal music I do not think I would like him as much , if he didn't make this song.

You know there are thousands, scratch that, millions of good songs. But there are just a few songs that are incomparable to any other song that exists. This is one of those songs. I do not know what else to say about it other than it is incomparable. I mean the lyrics, the music, and of course the singing are perfect. In every other song there is always something that could be better but not this song.

I think I have stressed to you how much I love this song but I guess I will try and explain what I mean. Lets start with the lyrics. The lyrics are some that you must sing with. You can't listen just to listen. This song will pull you in like a dust bunny getting pull into a vacuum and before you know it, you are singing along with the OZ-man. Now the lyrics are simple but they can really mean a lot if you really listen.

The music is perfect, in my opinion. It is not the loudest or the most empowering but it just enough to get you into it. It is perfect with all the little parts that came to together to make the piece, including the guitar solo that makes it a little more edgy. I say all the little parts because it has the simple piano in the beginning then it slowly add the percussion and a soft rhythm guitar. At parts you can here a small violin that adds a bit of oomph. Now what is best about the music is that it does not distract you from Ozzy Osbourne, which brings me to the singing.

The singing is my favorite part of the song. I can't really say anything about it, other than it is great, because I know nothing about singing. All I can say is that Ozzy Osbourne brought this song to the next level. I could not imagine anyone else doing it better.

"Dreamer" by Ozzy Osbourne is just a great, scratch that, incredible, spectacular song. One of those song that no matter how many times you listen to it, you will never get bored of listening to it. youtubeYbJqswLi3uE{/youtube}
