Matthew Fox, coming in number 87, is an American actor best known for his role in the TV show "Lost" and the movie "Vantage Point". I wanted to make sure you all know I am talking about the actor Matthew Fox. Not the baseball player, musician, or the priest Matthew Fox. It is the wonderful acting Matthew Fox that my eyes care about.

Now you may have noticed or you may soon noticed that I am attracted to brunettes. When I am scoping out guys, I automatically see brunettes first. They are just a tad more attractive than blondes. They work better with my brunette hair, I guess. So you may have noticed there are more brunettes than blondes, and you may soon learn about me that I am very much attracted to "African American" or black guys. They are just naturally sexy. Well anyway, back to Matthew Fox, I am very drawn to him just for the fact that he is a brunette.

Besides his wonderful brown locks, he also has a body... and a fine body too. One word to describe Matthew Fox's body? Um... HOT! He must be from Arizona. Kidding. I do not really watch the show "Lost" because I always get distracted by this muscular body, I can't follow the story because I day dream, or fantasize about Matthew Fox's muscles. Oh, yum... Now you all got me started on it.

Okay now, Matthew Fox is sounding pretty yummy and perfect but I only have one complaint about him. When this man is shirtless. Yes he has a nice body and gosh I do love it but his chest is hairy. That is not for me. I like their chests and back to be shaved. That just looks better to me. But for you ladies that like hairy chests, Matthew Fox is your kind of guy for eye candy.

What I like most about Matthew Fox is that he is not afraid to just dress however he wants. I mean I love a guy who can dress in a suit, and of course look good in it, but I don't like a guy who is always uptight in a suit and never just a casual dresser. Matthew Fox mixes it up, you search his name in images and you see him in formal dress wear and you also see him in a t-shirt and shorts. Just like a regular guy.

So that was our fourteenth guy down or our number 87. I just am happy to be making this list for your satisfaction and my own. I actually have a reason to search for all these guys. I am getting more and more excited as we are shimmying down this list. So sit down and hold on to something tight because I do not want you to faint from staring too hard at our 100 hot guys.
