Every band needs at least one hot guy in it. For Panic! At The Disco, Brendon Urie is the hot guy. Usually the hot one is the lead singer because the background singers or the guitarists don't get noticed. And in this case Brendon Urie is the lead singer in Panic! At The Disco.

Of course I like that he the biggest part in my favorite band! That's right! Panic! At The Disco is my favorite band! They totally rock my flip flops! And I don't just like them because of Brendon Urie. They are a really cool alternative band. Plus he has a unique but manly voice so I can't complain.

I really like Brendon Urie's style. It is alternative but also kind of formal. So I know he dresses the way he wants and the way that expresses him best but he can also work a suit and tie for formal occasions. I think that is the perfect way to dress.

I tend to change my mind a lot in guys bodies. I love guys to be strong but I also like them to be skinny. If they are too big from their muscles then it is a major turn off. But if the guy is just skin and bones then how are us girls supposed to be swept away. So with Brendon Urie's body, I think he has exactly what I want! Some muscle but also fit.

Any guy can have good style and a hot body but not all of them can have super fun personalities! After seeing almost all of this band's music videos, I would say they all have cool personalities. I mean in their music video for "Nine In The Afternoon" Brendon Urie was vacuuming a bed! That is classic and weird. Any guy who can be weird for millions of people to see, is all right with me.

So there is another hot guy added to our list of 100 hot guys. It just keeps getting better and better, doesn't it? Just wait till we hit the top twenty, those guys are too sexy for their shirts, too sexy for their shirts! We will be there before you, or me, knows it. Then I will be sad because I won't have an excuse to look at these guys shirtless.
