It's been awhile since I have heard a new, really great song. But finally, The Pussy Cat Dolls brought that to you and me. The song "I Hate This Part" is my new favorite song! It is on their latest album, Doll Domination, and it was their second single released from this album. This song has done extremely well on the charts, reaching number 11 on the Billboard Hot 100 and number 10 on the Billboard Pop 100.

This song has a really interesting beat to it. The music is a little bit faster than the lead singer, Nicole Scherzinger's vocals. It starts out with a simple piano in the beginning and then it adds a continuous beat. It keeps you moving and singing along to make it a really good song. The best part of the lyrics is when Nicole Scherzinger sings, "The world slows down, but my heart beats fast right now." That part just gives me chills up my spine. I can definitely say I don't "Hate This Part." I "Love This Part."

The music video is also one to see. I like the music video even though it doesn't really have a story line, or anything that you have to follow. It is one of those that works when it is not super complicated or too much. This much I will say about The Pussy Cat Dolls, they have style! I would love to be in their wardrobe. All of them are absolutely gorgeous, and this video just adds to their sex appeal.

Over all, I do recommend you to listen to this song. I doubt, very seriously, that you will be let down. It only took me one time to listen to it, to start tapping my foot and nodding my head and, of course, be belting out the lyrics.
